Overview

Citradium (CITRA) is a ground-breaking hybrid meme token engineered to develop real-world utilities that can be used on and off-chain. The best of both worlds is combined to establish a brand and company that are completely relevant to both centralized and decentralized markets by developing utilities and applications specific to each market.

By combining both through different business ventures, we have leverage to maximize return on investments to ensure the long-term sustainability of Citradium through multiple income streams.

Citradium is dedicated to building the ultimate ecosystem, using artificial intelligence and the world of possibilities presented to create opportunities and develop utilities to build a legacy that's unrivaled. This is where cryptocurrencies and FIAT currencies join hands to seamlessly integrate and facilitate the development of our roadmap, which includes applications, platforms, and transactional services that will pave the way to a new future.

CITRA's team is backed by more than 10 years of experience in the information technology sector (computer science), holding a variety of C-level positions. Project blueprints and development are designed, procured, and developed by top-level industry programmers and developers, combined with our information technology background, to bring forward unparalleled utilities and services as a company and token.

Market: Volatility and Security

With the different cycles in the decentralized market, the value of any cryptocurrencies can be greatly affected depending on which cycle an investor decides to enter the market to trade, buy, or sell assets.

Our approach to the different markets, as discussed in the overview, aims to create more stability and less volatility with growth for CITRA holders during any cycle in the decentralized market as we expand and grow Citradium.

Apart from the latter, any individual must be cautious when investing to safeguard their portfolio without falling victim to any unpleasant experience related to scams.

Business Strategy

Decentralized Financial Market:

Roadmap development will start immediately after the successful launch of Citradium.

- Citra Wallet's blueprint design is finalized, and development has commenced with the intention to deploy our wallet on the App Store (iOS) and Google Play Store (Android) for smartphones, tablets, and iPads, with additional browser extensions for Google Chrome, Microsoft Edge, and Mozilla Firefox.
- Planning and development of other innovative income-generating services, platforms, and utilities to create multiple income streams in the decentralized market.

Centralized Financial Market:

- Applications and software development for iOS and Android devices, including Microsoft Windows for laptops and desktop computers.
- Social platforms, comprehensive messaging applications, and interactive application development are part of our core focus points at Citradium.
- Payment integrations with options to facilitate FIAT and cryptocurrency payments.

Roadmap

Our current roadmap is a high-level overview and is subject to change due to technological advancements.

The roadmap will change as we grow and expand Citradium. The development of our own blockchain and coin will be planned and developed once Citradium has started to generate revenue from at least one utility, the start of a new empire.

- The successful launch of Citradium on PancakeSwap and multiple top centralized exchanges.
- CoinMarketCap and CoinGecko listings.
- Token buyback and burn schedule to drastically reduce the circulating supply to a minimum.

Citra Wallet

This will be the first project to be developed, this includes but are not limited to the list below:

- Artificial intelligence integrations.
- Warnings against imported tokens that are honeypots, scams and rug pulls related to developers.
- Multi-chain wallet.
- Cross-chain swaps.
- Lowest swapping fees guaranteed.
- Built-in browser.
- Enhanced security and safety protocols.
- Disable the send function to protect assets from hackers and fraudulent schemes. Sending can only be activated again by following a certain protocol to which only the original owner has access that is separate from the wallet for enhanced security.

To ensure our intellectual property is protected, all features and details will be unveiled upon the launch of Citra Wallet. The above serve as examples.

Financial Management

Both centralized and decentralized business ventures combined will support one another to maximize multiple revenue streams to sustain, grow, and expand Citradium's assets.

Only one individual has access to the wallet, tokens, and finances, as appointed by the company.

Citradium is a privately owned company, registered in compliance with the regulating laws and legal requirements of the government. This ensures a tax-compliant business with dedicated accountants.

Token Burning Program

After the successful launch of Citradium, the token buyback and burn program will be initiated.

Tokens will be manually burned, with the results of the burning process openly displayed on our website.

With the successful launch of every project and business venture (centralized and decentralized), the token buyback and burn program will be adjusted accordingly to increase the token burning rate to achieve the absolute minimum circulating supply.

Trade Cool Down

Citradium's smart contract has been developed with a trade cool-down function. It will be activated before launching on PancakeSwap to protect the LP Pool, investors, token price, and to eliminate bots as well as pump and dump activities.

Previous token holders prior to the crypto winter will be migrated on a 1:1 basis after the launch. It's natural for any investor that invests during the private sale or presale, including migrated investors, to want to sell tokens to cash in and take profits; however, the trade cool-down will prevent dumping activities and sustain the LP Pool and token price.

Any given wallet will be allowed to sell tokens once every 60 seconds; however, buying, and accumulating CITRA tokens are not restricted.

After listing on the first centralized exchange, investors can buy and sell tokens without restrictions.
